Description

Armourpanel is Australia's strongest decorative plywood - designed, tested and approved to tolerate extremes of heat and humidity and to resist shrinkage. Its tolerance of changes in ambient temperature and its toughness make it ideal as flooring, ceiling or wall linings in hard wearing areas.

Every panel is made from layers of Australian eucalypt hardwood veneers bonded together to form a strong, solid, stable panel. Available as a 2400 x 1200 sheet or optional 1800 x 1200 sheet, no two sheets are alike meaning no pattern repeats - every sheet is individual and natural.

The durability of the hardwood veneers used in every layer of Armourpanel make it the natural choice for residential or commercial applications requiring strength, durability resilience, stability and impact resistance.

Armourpanel is a precision engineered structural or decorative total hardwood plywood panel manufactured under the Plywood Association of Australia's third party audited quality control program. The PAA Tested Structural stamp on each Armourpanel panel is a guarantee of safety and reliability when the panels are used in accordance with this publication.

Armourpanel is bonded with a durable Type B bond using plantation and regrowth hardwood veneers. The product is therefore extremely environmentally friendly.
